

HSE 410 Module Two Activity Guidelines and Rubric

Prompt: Case managers may be required to create meaningful educational information for clients. In this assignment, choose two communities: one with a low socioeconomic status and one with a high socioeconomic status. These communities can be near where you live or work. After researching human service agencies available to people in these two communities, choose two service agencies in each community and compare and contrast them in a 1–2 page document. Include a table or annotated list comparing and contrasting these resources in the paper. Clearly identify the names and locations of the communities, the population breakdown, and a short description of each agency. Also, include a section that states the conclusions you drew from your research and analysis.

The following critical elements must be addressed in your paper:

- Identify one community of a low socioeconomic status and one community of a high socioeconomic status with names, locations, and population breakdown
- Identify at least two service agencies in each community with short description.
- Compare and contrast of the agencies/resources available to each community in a table or annotated list
- Conclusion from research and analysis

Guidelines for Submission: Your assignment must be 1–2 pages in length and must be submitted in standard APA format, with 12-point Times New Roman font, one-inch margins, and sources cited in APA format.
